Learn more about the lesser known, frequently overlooked, and typically misapplied areas of evidence law giving you a leg-up on your adversary!

OVERVIEW

This course shows delegates how to apply the rules and legal principles that govern proof of facts in a legal proceeding. It looks at these rules that determine what evidence must or must not be considered by the trier of fact in reaching its decision. The gathering, analysis and presentation of tricky pieces of digital and device evidence is covered, enhancing skills of the investigator and initiator at internal disciplinary proceedings and representatives at arbitrations.

Classroom exercises will focus on the tactical and practical aspects of advanced evidence issues in Labour Law helping delegates expand their advocacy skills.

This course is highly interactive and facilitated by trainers who have extensive litigation experience.
